Keeping Boats Safe at HSC

It's that time of year again when a few days rain on sodden ground can mean floods.

Look after your boat by attaching it firmly to the posts on either side of your berth. If you borrow a club boat, make sure you tie it down properly when you put it away.

Don't forget that small craft like kayaks also need to be tied up.

Power Boat Manager

The club is looking for a volunteer to look after the power boats

In conjunction with the Safety Boat Co-ordinator, responsibility for the physical care and maintenance of the club's powerboats and ancillary equipment. You'll need RYA Powerboat and/or Safety Boat qualification, and basic mechanical knowledge would be useful.

Powerboats: ensure upkeep and maintenance is current and appropriate, including monitoring the log book, scheduling of routine outboard engine servicing together with delivery to, and collection from, the designated marine mechanics. Towbar and trailer lighting board essential.

Equipment: ensure all equipment relating to the safety boat function is fit for purpose, repairing or replacing as necessary, including: walkie-talkies, road trailers, launching trolleys, on-board equipment as mandated by the RYA (buckets, heaving lines, anchors, grab-bags etc.)

Quarter Master

The club needs a volunteer to take on the role of Quarter Master.

The most important jobs are to:
Ensure, with the help of others, that repairs to club boats are carried out as soon as practicable.
Periodically check that the club boats are berthed and tied down correctly, especially during the winter months

If you can help, please contact Patrick Commodore@havershamsc.org

Non Native Invasive species ANGLERS

PLEASE ensure that all your nets, slings, mats, etc are completely and thoroughly dry before fishing. The scientists recommend exposing equipment for a minimum of 18 hours of direct sunlight to remove any risk of transfer of invasive species (also kills KHV). The committee is relying on YOU to follow this ruling, so PLEASE ensure you do so.

Thank you, Des
(Angling Manager)
